

Deciding Your Strategy

A good way to approach making a decision is to acknowledge that there is a sequence. Here are the steps:

- ⇒ Get as clear & organized as possible with your thoughts and conclusions
- ⇒ Take an accounting of your capabilities and developed strengths
- ⇒ Do your homework on what's going on in the market and where you are personally marketable
- ⇒ Consider your greatest passions and needs to develop viable options
- ⇒ Weigh those potential options
- ⇒ Create an action plan that is consistent with these results

This process is designed to help you make the best decisions regarding your career and ultimately your personal life.
